

Consultant Position at The Carnrite Group

The Carnrite Group is a management consulting firm headquartered in Houston, TX. They are seeking consultants with prior management consulting and oil & gas expertise to join the team. The ideal candidate will support the design and implementation of customized solutions to complex strategic, operational and organizational issues affecting all segments of the energy industry. Carnrite's proven approach includes developing deep understanding of competitive issues, create strategies for change, secure clients' buy-in and implement solutions.

Optimal candidates should demonstrate general understanding of the oil and gas industry and would materially contribute to and/ or manage a project. As a Carnrite consultant, you will work closely with clients and other Carnrite team members under the guidance of a Project Manager and/or Managing Director. Willingness to travel is a key consideration for this position as we work closely with our clients, generally in their offices.

Ideal Position Requirements:

- 3+ years of management consulting experience
- 3+ years of experience in the oil and gas industry
- Bachelor's Degree in Engineering or Business discipline
- MBA desired but can be substituted with relevant work experience
- Advanced ability to utilize Microsoft suite of productivity tools (specifically Excel, Word and PowerPoint)
- Must be eligible to work for an employer in the US

As a Carnrite Consultant, you can expect to:

- Support the identification and execution of performance improvement opportunities for oil and gas clients including operations optimization, process reengineering, organizational design, benchmarking, performance management, metric identification, implementation, and change management
- Support strategy formulation and execution for clients
- Interact directly with client personnel to assess needs, socialize concepts, and develop deliverables
- Structure analyses, conduct research, and produce end products (could be self-work or directing the work of an analyst)
- Execute assigned tasks timely and effectively by focusing on core issues and effectively managing to deadlines (includes development of reports with findings and recommendations)
- Work in collaborative team environment – at Carnrite office or client site; must also have capability to conduct self-planned and directed work
- Dependent on role, work under the guidance of a Project Manager to conduct various analyses, develop client presentations, and support workshop facilitation
- Leverage existing frameworks and methodologies to provide solutions to clients; contribute to the development of new frameworks as needed
- Develop and maintain client relationships to support current and future business development
- Support all aspects of day-to-day project activities
- Travel about 80% of the time to client sites contingent on project requirements, which can include international locations

Timing: Immediate Opening

To learn more about Carnrite, visit: <https://carnritegroup.com/about-us/>

Please submit resumes to careers@carnritegroup.com for consideration